Santiago, October 7, 2021.- Quiñenco S.A. filed today material information with the Financial Market Commission, informing that its Board approved an interim dividend of Ch$284,767,001,333, equivalent to Ch$171.26168 per share, charged to net income for the current year.

The Chief Executive Officer of Quiñenco, Francisco Pérez Mackenna, explained that “this decision was made to recognize the trust our shareholders have placed in our strategy and is based particularly on the performance of our subsidiary CSAV, which has achieved very positive results this year, driven by its main asset, the German shipping liner Hapag-Lloyd. This has enabled CSAV, after a long ten-year journey, to distribute dividends to its shareholders, including Quiñenco.”

This interim dividend will be paid on November 2, 2021, to all shareholders registered in the respective registry at midnight on the fifth business day prior to that date.

Quiñenco is one of the most diversified corporate conglomerates in Chile. It has investments in leading companies in the financial, beverage, manufacturing, energy, transport and port services industries, which together employ over 68 thousand people in Chile and abroad.
